ALL YOU DO IS PLACE IT ON YOUR NIGHT TABLE

The oval shape quartz crystal is a companion unit that is placed on your night table in your bedroom. Its function is to facilitate continuous breathing of the human body.

How does it perform?

It's a transmitting quartz crystal, and it is autonomous. You have nothing to do.

The crystal does the work for you:

As an example when you decide to move your hand, your brain sends instructions to your hand to move in a manner in which you intend. Similarly the quartz crystal unit transmits information continuously to the brain to send commands to the lungs to breathe regularly. It is that simple.

Technically: Our DNA being a quantum antenna receives data (scalar waves) in order to execute specific actions.

No more need of being hooked up to uncomfortable devices or change your way of life.

The quality of sleep which is achieved (REM & NREM stage) is applicable to anyone being in the same room, therefore benefiting from a better quality of sleep. It's so simple.
